PROFILE

Hello! My name is Siddharth and I enjoy creating things that live on the internet. My interest in python programming and web development started back in 2020 when I decided to try make a discord automation bot and a portfolio website. I was also passionate about video editing and the whole content creation space. Fast-forward to today, and I've made several python projects, and websites along with editing multiple video content for multiple clients. My main focus these days is building websites and content editing for a variety of clients..
